Pennndel Man Critically Hurt In Crash

Hospital Says Victim Still Unconscious

Other Driver Has Lesser Injuries From Accident

A Pennndel man is in critical condition at Lower Bucks County Hospital today as the result of a head-on auto crash on Route 1 near the Country Club Shopping Center at 6 p.m.

The victim, Raymond T. Repp, 28, of 71 West Lincoln Highway, Pennndel, is still unconscious as a result of a severe skull fracture he suffered in the accident. He also sustained possible internal injuries.

A second man, Lawrence S. Kennedy, 42, of 197 Rosemont Ave., Trenton, suffered scalp lacerations and a possible concussion. He was admitted to the hospital. His conditions was listed as "good" today. The Levittown Emergency Squad took both victims to the hospital.

Middletown Township Patrolman George Praul said he has been unable to question the unconscious Repp, but said witnesses report he was driving east on Route 1 and suddenly swerved out of control across the highway.

Repp's car crashed head on with Kennedy's vehicle, which was coming in the opposite direction.

A six-year-old Croydon boy ran into the side of a car on Prospect Ave., Croydon, yesterday afternoon but apparently was not injured.

The boy is John Bastian, 1746 Prospect Ave. He was taken to Lower Bucks County Hospital for examination. He was released when doctors found no injuries.

Bristol Township police report he darted between two parked cars and was hit by an automobile driven by Frank Izkovitz, 32, of 1305 Prospect Ave. Izkovitz said he tried to stop when he saw the boy, but the lad hit the left front fender and fell.

Good Evening!

Skies cooling off.

Two solid days of gentle rain would be mighty welcome. We've simply got to look after the lawns, the flowers, the crops and the reservoirs.

Something else we've got to do.

That is to vote at next Tuesday primary election day. And if you haven't figured out the best man for the job, now's the time to start figuring.

It's been quite an election ball, incidentally. And what some of these characters seeking office won't do to get their names and pictures in the paper!

But that's the way she goes. And the chances are whatever the voters decide will be okay.

More of Dave Beck's shenanigans revealed before the Senate rackets committee.

You know, you nearly have to shiver when you think we may have quite a number of Becks in this country of ours. He certainly is a lot of loyal rank-and-file union members.

You wouldn't believe it, perhaps, but it's true: Three school districts in Pennsylvania still practicing segregation.

Well sir, Governor Leader has ordered the public instruction department to put an end to the practice and for that he deserves a pretty rousing salute.

You wouldn't believe it, also, but those Phillies of ours lost a crazy ballgame last night. Okay, with the Cards tonight they'll resume their winning ways.

Did you ever notice how a narrow mind and an open mouth go together?

"What a beautiful coat! It must have cost a fortune."
"No. Just a single kiss."
"That you gave your husband?"
"No. That he gave the maid."

If you drive, take it easy.

Graham Calls On Protestant Ministers For 'Spiritual Fire'

NEW YORK (UP)—Evangelist Billy Graham called in Protestant ministers today to try to turn his $1,300,000 New York Crusade into a "spiritual revolution" which will sweep America.

In the unlikely setting of Madison Square Garden, Billy last night began the biggest, toughest battle of his meteoric career—to sway cynical New Yorkers to Christ and thus fan a "spiritual fire" across the nation.

He won the first round. A near-capacity crowd of 18,500 persons of all walks and all ages jammed the big sports arena, shook its rafters with hymns and sat in reverent silence as he spoke.

Lower Bucks PRR Commuters Face Increase In Fare

Lower Bucks County commuters to Philadelphia on the Pennsylvania Railroad will pay $3 a month more on June 16, if a proposed fare hike is put into effect.

Commuters from Cornwells Heights now pay $22 a month. They'll pay $25 under the proposed fare hike, railroad officials said.

Other commuters face these raises: Bristol from $24.90 to $27.90; Levittown-Tullytown from $26.15 to $29.15. This is on unrestricted, individual monthly rates.

Other fare brackets would jump in proportion.

Restricted individual monthly rates—Cornwells Heights from $19.80 to $22.80; Bristol from $22.45 to $25.45; Levittown-Tullytown from $23.55 to $26.55.

Homes Hit As Twister Rips Texas

Rescue Workers Fear Death Toll Will Mount Higher

SILVERTON, Tex. UP—A tornado that looked like a berserk cloud of red sand smashed into Silvertown late last night, killing 20 persons in the town and its outskirts and injuring at least 60.

Highway Patrol Capt. J. W. Blackwell said 19 were killed in Silvertown itself. He said at least 53 were injured. In addition to these, Mrs. E. E. Puckett, 30, who lives near Silvertown, was killed and her two children hurt.

"It dipped and popped and looked like red sand boiling and rumbling when it hit," Mrs. Billy Stevens said. "It looked like a real low cloud that had a belly on it and then it began moving through town."

The tornado was one of at least a dozen that rumbled around over the Texas panhandle Wednesday night, injuring at least six other persons and shattering homes and barns at scattered points.

Twenty-five homes were destroyed in Silvertown, a town of about 850 residents. Fifteen more were badly damaged and another 15 slightly damaged. A cotton gin was destroyed, along with four grain elevators and a barracks that in cotton picking season houses Mexican workers.

The tornado disgorged pieces of lumber and furniture from the homes it wrecked for a mile around. There was nothing except the foundation left of some homes. Five members of one family were reported killed.

United Press Correspondent Tom Higley said six bodies were loaded into one pickup truck. The dying and injured were parceled out to hospitals in larger towns surrounding it.

Dr. C. H. Black said he had treated 50 or 60 persons himself, all covered with mud and suffering from shock, head injuries and cuts. The more seriously injured were sent to larger hospitals at Lockney, Lubbock, Dimmitt, Tulia and Amarillo.

Captain Blackwell's figure of 53 injured evidently included only those in serious enough condition to be kept in hospitals.

Bensalem Girl Puts 'Bite' On Molester

A 16-year-old Bensalem girl put "teeth" in her "stop" order last night and chased a would-be attacker.

Bensalem Police said the girl bit the hand of a man who grabbed her about 9:50 p.m. while she was walking along Bristol Pike.

The girl told police the man was walking toward her. "He stopped me to ask directions," the girl said, "I told him I didn't know where the location was, but he could probably find out at a nearby custard stand."

Police said the girl told them she started on then and so did the man. Then, police said, the man turned and grabbed the girl.

The girl bit the man's hand. He took off for safer quarters. Police are continuing investigation.

Operation Ghana To Attract Dignitaries

As Operation Ghana approaches its climax with the international conference at Pennsbury High School this Monday, the activity that started in the junior class several months ago is reflected all over the world.

The Social Studies Department, under the direction of history teacher Marius Livingston, has titled the conference "Africa, a Continent in Turmoil."

At 8 a.m. on Monday, a line of limousines will arrive at the school from airports and railroad stations bearing an impressive array of American dignitaries as well as ambassadors and United Nations Delegates from the countries bordering Ghana.

Among them will be the distinguished American negro leader, 89-year-old Dr. W. E. Burghardt DuBois, who will moderate the conference, and Dr. George H. Kimble, who will act as special consultant on African geography. The conference will run from 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., and will be broadcast by WTTM. It will also be broadcast over the "Voice of America" and Radio Free Europe.

Although the day's conference is open to the public, another adult conference will be held Monday from 8 to 10 p.m.

Sponsorship

Operation Ghana, part of the international conference, is under the sponsorship of Pennsbury High School and the Yardley-Makefield Optimist Club.

Primarily, it is a project to acquire 50,000 books for Ghana, the new Negro Republic on the west coast of Africa. Recently given British Dominion status, Ghana is the former Gold Coast Colony.

Publishing houses, libraries, schools, and organizations, as well as prominent individuals, were contacted by the student committee and have donated nearly 12,000 books thus far, with others promised and enroute.

Highlighting afternoon conference activities will be an outdoor "birthday" celebration for this newest independent country of the free world.

A $500 birthday cake, baked by Rossi's Bakery in Trenton, will be served, and there will be a flag presentation. Three students from Ghana will accept the books from the students. Then the books will be shipped freight-free by the U. S. Rubber Company to Ghana. Letters from the White House, the State Department, and American dignitaries will be read.

Dredge Workman Seriously Burned After Explosion

A boiler on a Delaware River dredge exploded yesterday, and escaping steam burned two workmen. One is still in Lower Bucks County Hospital with second degree burns covering a third of his body.

The workmen are Ira Wiltshire, 47, of 531 Linden St., Bristol, and Richard Green, Main St., Tullytown, 47. Green was released from the hospital after treatment.

Wiltshire, hospital officials said, is in fair condition, "with second degree burns over 36 per cent of his body."

Officials at the Warner Co., Morrisville, owners of the dredge, "Franklin," said the boiler exploded about 6:30 a.m. yesterday when the two men began operations.

Valve

Spokesmen said the end of a valve blew off, sending a 150-pound pressure of steam into the boiler room. The dredge keeps a fire going all night to have steam ready for work in the morning.

Company officials said, "There's no apparent reason for the valve end to blow," officials declared. "We're still checking." (Continued on Page 4, Col. 4)

Crank Caller

Bomb Scare Chases 2,400 Township Pupils

About 2,400 pupils were pulled out of the Benjamin Franklin Junior High and Delhaas High Schools yesterday afternoon when a crank telephone caller reported a bomb, planted in the junior high, would explode at 2 p.m.

schools by Bristol Township police and teachers failed to uncover any "bomb."

Miss Kathleen Lukens, secretary at the Franklin school, located on Mill Creek Road, Levittown, reported that a man called a minute or two before 2 o'clock and said a time bomb had been planted in the auditorium. He said it was set to go off at 2 p.m.

Stanley Dick, Franklin principal, immediately ordered a fire drill. The nearly 1,200 pupils were cleared from the building in about two minutes.

By this time police arrived and with the help of faculty members scoured the auditorium and stage. By this time it was 2:15 p.m. and no evidence of a bomb had been found.

Police then decided the caller possibly might have been mistaken and meant that the "bomb" was in Delhaas. Sgt. Robert Hibbs and Patrolman John Harmon (Continued on Page 4, Col. 7)

Lightning Kills Student

JONESBORO, Tenn. (UP) — A lightning bolt cracked across a baseball field during a high school game yesterday, killing a 15-year-old player and injuring five others.

Michael Watson, 15, a member of the Lamar, Tenn., high school team, died soon after he was struck. Of the five injured, one was kept at Johnson City Memorial Hospital for treatment of burns on both legs. The others were treated and released, including umpire Warren Miller, 35.

Witnesses said a "horizontal bolt" of lightning swept across the field in the top of the seventh inning. It toppled the pitcher, four infielders and the umpire to the ground like "ten pins," a spectator said.

The game, between Lamar and Boone's Creek high schools was "being rushed along" because of threatening weather when the lightning struck.

Nuclear Device Tests Delayed By Weather

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (UP) —American scientists waited impatiently today for the weather to improve so they can explode with safety the first nuclear device of an unusually long series of tests.

Unfavorable winds caused by a last-minute change in weather conditions led the Atomic Energy Commission to postpone for 24 hours the detonation of a nuclear device atop a 500-foot tower which had been scheduled for today.

The AEC explained that winds would have carried radioactive particles in dangerous quantities south of the firing area, sprinkling them upon newspapermen, the scientists themselves and military observers, including those from 13 NATO nations gathered to witness the tests.

British Hydrogen Bomb Test-One Of Biggest

Japanese Scientists Confirm Drop

By DANIEL F. GILMORE
United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON (UP)—Britain held up a detailed report today on its first hydrogen bomb test until observers confirm the dispersal of its deadly radioactive fallout. Japanese scientists indicated it was one of the biggest explosions yet.

The government hoped to give a formal report to Parliament this afternoon on the blast that put Britain in the thermonuclear power ranks with Russia and the United States.

Touches Off Protests
The bomb, dropped from a plane somewhere in the Pacific Ocean near Christmas Island yesterday, touched off protests and demonstrations in Japan. Fears were expressed in Tokyo for the safety of Japanese fishermen reported to be in the central Pacific.

British planes, ships and meteorological stations in the vicinity of Christmas Island watched for any change in the "ideal weather" that would upset plans that the radioactive fallout never reach inhabited land.

Detailed Account Delayed

Informed sources said that until the danger was past there would be no more details on the blast.

Tokyo weathermen said their instruments recorded atmospheric disturbances "at least as heavy" as those caused by U.S. H-bomb tests at Bikini.

This indicated the British explosion was much bigger than any fired by the United States since Christmas Island is roughly 4,000 miles from Tokyo — twice as far as Bikini.

One-hundred flag-waving Japanese university students scuffled with police while trying to force their way into the compound at the British Embassy in Tokyo to present protest petitions.

In the wake of the first official announcement, this much was known about the test:

—The first H-bomb worked.

—The five airmen who dropped it from a four-jet supersonic Valiant bomber of the Royal Air Force got back okay.

—There will be more tests but the number remains a secret.

A Long Drop

The government said the bomb — which it termed a "nuclear device" — was dropped from a high altitude. Various British papers reported it was dropped from 8-10 miles up set to explode 2-3 miles above the sea.

Announcement of the explosion came three weeks before the British public had expected it.

More than 1,000 scientists, airmen, sailors and soldiers had worked more than a year at the mid-Pacific atoll getting ready for the current series.

The drop climaxed a two-year "crash" program set in motion in 1955 by former Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden. Its success means Britain can go ahead with its plans for a modern, streamlined armed force geared to an atomic age strategy.

1000 To Get Vaccine Shots In Morrisville

More than 1000 school children, pre-school children, and expectant mothers will begin a queue tomorrow in the Morrisville High School gymnasium for the second in the Salk vaccine series.

First shots were offered to over 400 persons last month.

Mrs. Marjorie Jones, school nurse, in charge of the program said the pre-school children and the mothers-to-be will be handled first, beginning at 9 a.m. and running until 10:30 a.m.

The school children — with every school in Morrisville eligible — will be given the second in the series of shots.

Mrs. Jones said that any student missing the first shot last month may receive it now. This clinic, however, is supposedly for the second part of the series.

The shots will be offered by Dr. Robert Gould and Dr. Theodore Cohen of Morrisville.

Final shots in the series will be offered in the fall, Mrs. Jones said.

New Crisis Flares In Suez Canal Fight

A new crisis was blowing up today over the Suez Canal.

Israel reaffirmed its right and determination to use the international waterway while Egyptian officials repeated their determination to halt any Israeli ship and blamed President Eisenhower for "encouraging" Israel.

Egyptian newspapers attacked the Eisenhower statement today and said "it is really to be regretted that when conditions are beginning to stabilize, America should encourage an Israeli move which may result in world conflagration."

Mill St. Businessmen Celebrate 37th Birthday

By BOB REINHARDT
Courier and Times Staff Writer

The Mill Street Bristol Business Center Association celebrated its 37th anniversary last night, and heard pleas for the continuance and increase of the cooperative spirit among the Mill Street merchants.

Held at the glamorous Playhouse Inn, New Hope, the banquet attracted 125 Association members and guests. Dancing followed the dinner and addresses.

Special guests included several members of Bristol Borough Council, and other borough officials, and Dr. J. Goodner Gill, vice president of Rider College, Trenton, and a leader in many welfare activities, who was guest speaker.

New Officers

New officers of the Association officially took over their duties at last night's banquet. They included Leon S. Kanter, succeeding Norman K. Vogel as president; Gene Nichols, vice president and Jack Ward, secretary-treasurer.

Charles Richman was toastmaster, and presented a Polaroid camera to Mr. Vogel in recognition of his outstanding service as president.

The need for cooperation to maintain and further the success of the Mill Street shopping center was brought out in Dr. Gill's address, and in remarks by Mr. Kanter and Mr. Vogel.

"The New Jersey educator also cited the necessity for a faith in God in bringing happiness and success.

Survey Slated On Rec Needs

A group of interested citizens in Falls Township has undertaken a campaign to determine the recreation needs of the township.

The group took on the task when it became known that the Police Athletic League was considering opening a local branch in Falls Township.

The Rev. Ray L. Harwick, spokesman for the group, said certain residents, interested in recreation programs, decided to study the existing structure of the township's recreation plan.

"We are not opposed" any recreation group," he said, "but we do want to determine if the present recreation facilities are adequate and if more are necessary.

Couple Told 4 Sons Can't Go To Russia

CHICAGO (UP)—A family court judge has refused to let a Russian couple take their four sons to the Soviet Union.

Judge John H. Clayton Jr. acted yesterday after a custody hearing involving the sons of George Kozmin, 54, and his wife, Nabejda, 35. He arranged, however, for the parents to have a trial reunion with their children this summer.

The children, wards of the court, are Richard, 10, George Jr., 8, Paul, 7, and Peter, 10 months. Richard and George are in the Central Baptist Children's Home, Lake Villa, Ill., while Paul has been placed in a foster home and Peter is living with his parents.

The Kozmins, former slave laborers in Russia, came to this country from a German displaced persons camp in 1950. Their three oldest sons were born in the German camp while Peter was born in Chicago.

Both parents were committed to mental patients. Mrs. Kozmin was released as cured but Kozmin received a conditional release.

Morrisville Water Meters Are Installed

Every home in Morrisville may have a water meter installed within a year.

Of the 400 meters purchased last year, only 85 have yet to be installed in borough homes.

Bob Steward, borough secretary, said the remainder of the more than 2,000 meters needed to complete the borough will be purchased and installed over many months.

"We will probably buy about 400 at a time and install those," the secretary said.

Savings Device

The secretary said the meters have proved a water savings device in homes that already have them.

"It's a psychological factor when a person knows the amount of water used will be metered and paid for at what the meter reads."

"People are just a little more careful about letting the tap and hose run all night," he said.

At present, homes not having meters are charged at a fixed rate for water service.

Mr. Steward said the charges to persons without meters have been averaging very close to the amount paid to persons with water meters.

16 Are Held For Trial

The next grand jury will not sit until September, and persons indicted this week will be scheduled for criminal court trials the last week in May and the first week in June.

Included among those held for trial are:

East Africa Missionaries To Be At Open House Day

At an Open House program, to be held at Holy Ghost Missionary College, Junior Seminary of the Holy Ghost Fathers in Cornwells Heights, Sunday afternoon from 1 until 5 p.m., the Very Reverend Vernon F. Gallagher, President of Duquesne University in Pittsburgh, will speak at Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament ceremonies to be held at an outdoor shrine. Father Gallagher, who has held his present position since 1950, was selected by Time magazine and the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce as one of Pittsburgh's "100 Men of the Future."

In addition to Father Gallagher, Fathers Louis Dolan and Vincent Durning, Holy Ghost missionaries from Philadelphia, will be on hand to meet the visitors at a special mission exhibit which will be presented in conjunction with the Open House Program.

Back To Africa

On the following Tuesday both priests will leave New York for the seven weeks return ocean voyage to their missions in East Africa. Since arriving in this country last December they have appeared before numerous groups in the area describing life among the Chagga tribe and the response

Authority, said the final details of purchase of the standpipe — made necessary by the deterioration of the present one — will wait for the recommendation of engineers.

Mr. Redland said engineers will make a study of the present structure and offer recommendations for the borough's future needs.

"It will probably take at least three months to a year before all the details are ironed out and the new standpipe is built," he said.

"In the meantime, the main thing is to get the old one down."

The standpipe next to the borough secretary's office on North Delmor Ave., is being leveled section by section. The 150-foot structure will be sliced to 80 feet with the remainder to come down after provisions have been made for building a replacement.

Bob Steward, borough secretary, said the new standpipe may not be built on the exact location of the present one.

"We may decide it would be more feasible to construct across the street next to the borough filtration plant."

"These are details that will wait for the completion of the engineering survey," he said.

Berkes Says 'Intimidation'

Milton Berkes, Falls Township Democratic Supervisor, today charged Constantine Mitchell with "trying to intimidate me."

Berkes said "I won't be intimidated by Mitchell now or ever. This suit is an old political trick. The Letter Mitchell refers to in the suit was sent to Bill Davlin, Secretary of Commerce, on Oct. 7, 1956, at the suggestion of one of the State leaders of the Democratic Party. This was seven months ago. One of Mitchell's exhibits is dated Oct. 1955—19 months ago. Mitchell waited until exactly one week prior to election to spring his hoped for coup-d'etat, for very obvious political reasons."

"I have documentary proof of everything Mitchell is charged with. These documents have been turned over to my attorneys, Curran and Heefner. I welcome this opportunity to prove my case in court."

"Despite the abuse to which I have been subjected recently, I shall continue to work hard for Dave Struble and Paul Terrells in this primary and I shall be very happy to face Mitchell in a court of law."

$5 Support Order Issued

A Philadelphia man who pleaded guilty to fathering two children of a Croydon woman was ordered to pay $5 a week support and a $240 medical bill for the second child.

Zigmund Kulesza, who said there was a possibility he and the woman might be married, had been in jail since Jan. 28, awaiting sentence on the charge.

His guilty plea was entered when the case was slated for the grand jury.

The second child was born last month. No court order was made for the first child because charges were brought after a two-year statute of limitations went into effect.

Of these people to the efforts of the missionaries.

A well planned program has been arranged for the entire afternoon by the seminarians, including a description of seminary life, selections by the seminary glee club, and dyed saw dust carpets designed along the paths in a rich variety of color.

Of particular interest will be an extensive display of mission articles from various parts of Europe, South America, Puerto Rico and Africa. This feature attraction representing work conducted by the Holy Ghost Fathers throughout the world will illustrate progress in different mission fields.

The Holy Ghost Fathers have been located in Cornwells Heights since 1897. In addition to the seminary, they administer parishes in the city (Philadelphia) and St. Joseph's House for boys at 16th St. and Allegheny Ave. Preparatory courses are taken at Holy Ghost Missionary college by those aspiring to the priesthood in this congregation which totals almost 5,000 members, 1,400 of which are presently working in Africa. The seminary is located on Route 13 (Bristol Pike) four miles from the Philadelphia city line,

Yardley Street Fair To Include Pet Show

A pet show, supervised by William Mackensen, Jr., owner of the Makensen Kennels on Reading Ave., will be part of the Yardley Street Fair June 8.

All proceeds from the fair will be donated to the Yardley Community Center.

Mr. Mackensen said the show was such a success last year at the fair, it is being scheduled again by popular demand.

House pets can be entered in the show where ribbon awards as well as prizes will go to the champions of the various classes.

Separate categories for dogs, cats and other house pets will be judged at the fair.

Mr. Mackensen said that animals brought to the street fair should be on leashes or in cages. Robert Farkas, of Morrisville, attorney and breeder of poodles will be the judge at the pet show.

Mr. Mackensen said that all people in the area, along with the children, should plan to attend the fair.

Several months ago, the borough police borrowed a set from the Bensalem Township police and the device proved quite useful in apprehending speeders through the borough.

John Sawyer, chairman of the borough's police committee, said he is making a complete study of the advantages and costs concerned in such a purchase.

Plans have also been completed for the Yardley Street Fair, June 8, sponsored by the club.

Proceeds from the bulb sale will go into the club's general project fund.
